

17 June 2015

businessinsider

Family law specialist Denise Lavery joins bto

10:14, 17 JUNE 2015 BY SCOTT MCCULLOCH

Lavery, who is qualified as a solicitor in Scotland, England and Wales, specialises in family law and armed forces pensions and has 23 years practice experience

6 Shares

Share

Tweet

+1

Pinterest

Denise Lavery

Law firm bto has appointed Denise Lavery as an associate in its Family Law team.

Lavery, who is qualified as a solicitor in Scotland, England and Wales, specialises in family law and armed forces pensions and has 23 years practice experience.

She joins bto's Glasgow office from Anderson Strathern, where she was a senior associate.

Alan Borthwick, chairman of bto, said: "Denise joins a team at the forefront of family law in Scotland.

"She is a significant senior appointment for the team and we are very pleased that she has joined us.

"Denise is highly regarded for her pragmatic and sensitive approach to resolving difficult issues and is a valuable addition to the firm."